FAQs INCOMING Students

Here you will find information on procedures and deadlines of the International Postgraduate School for incoming mobility students, who are linked to the international mobility programs of Master's students, such as: Erasmus+: Erasmus+: International Dimension, Free Mobility, etc. All information regarding callups and selections is handled by the Vice-Rector for Internationalisation. If you don't find the information you were looking for, don't hesitate on contacting us

How can I apply at the University of Granada?	Before applying online you must make sure that your home university has nominated you to the University of Granada. Whatever your profile, all international students who have been nominated by their home university and who wish to carry out an international mobility study stay at the University of Granada must make an online application prior to the study period.
If I am nominated for a Master's degree, can I include Bachelor's degree courses?	Yes, but you will have to make two online applications (one for bachelor's degree and one for master's degree) and indicate the subjects to be included in each of the levels of study. The maximum number of credits of Bachelor studies to be included will be 6 (nominations of a semester) or 12 (nominations of a complete course).
What are the deadlines to apply online?	The deadlines for the online application are dictated by the International Relations Office. As a general rule, the term for the stay in the first semester or full course is from April 1 to May 15 and the term to stay in the second semester is from October 1 to 31.
What are the language admission requirements?	They are those established in the Interinstitutional Agreement between the universities. Unless the student is in any of the exemption grounds, he/she must certify at least the level required according to the language of teaching of the subjects indicated in their study agreement. The exemptions to the previous linguistic requirements and the certificates of linguistic competence accepted by the University of Granada can be consulted here.
How do I make the Learning Agreement?	It must be agreed with the Mobility Coordinators of the Universities of origin and destination.
When do I have to enroll at the University of Granada?	Once your study agreement is signed, we will proceed ex officio to enroll you in the subjects included and we will send you a confirmation email once it is carried out.
When will I get the Transcript of Records?	Once the mobility is completed and all grades appear in the student's file, we will proceed to email the transcript to the home university and the student.
